

Direct Sales from West African Distribution Box Manufacturers

AI Overview

West African distribution box manufacturers and suppliers offer direct sales through verified B2B platforms, integrated distributors, and specialized manufacturers of cold storage and modular steel structures. Key Manufacturers and Suppliers TSSC Group is a leading West African manufacturer of pre-engineered steel buildings, cold storage panels, and refrigerated truck boxes. They provide turnkey solutions including design, supply, installation, and maintenance of cold rooms and freezer rooms with temperature ranges from -40°C to $+15^{\circ}\text{C}$. Their products are widely used in agriculture, fisheries, and industrial sectors, supporting local food security and cold chain management in countries like Nigeria, Senegal, and Mauritania. Builders24 Distribution operates as a fully integrated distribution company across 17 African markets, including West Africa. They handle procurement, import, warehousing, cross-border logistics, and direct supply to businesses. Builders24 purchases goods directly from manufacturers, ensuring full ownership and accountability, which allows for reliable direct sales of distribution boxes and related products. B2B Marketplaces and Directories Africa2Trust is a verified B2B marketplace that connects buyers with African manufacturers and distributors. It allows businesses to discover products, services, and investment opportunities across West Africa, providing a platform for direct engagement with suppliers of distribution boxes and cold storage solutions. African Distributor is a trust network for organizations doing business in African markets. It enables companies to post opportunities, find verified partners, and build a credible trade reputation. This platform is particularly useful for sourcing distribution boxes directly from manufacturers or established distributors in West Africa.
