

Iraqi optical module manufacturers

AI Overview

Iraq has 25 verified optical products manufacturers, with major concentrations in Baghdad and Erbil, and companies like Smart-Tech Iraq provide specialized optical module solutions. Overview of Optical Module Manufacturing in Iraq As of July 2025, Iraq hosts 25 optical products manufacturers, with Baghdad accounting for 9 manufacturers (36% of the total) and Erbil hosting 7. These companies are distributed across seven states, providing a mix of manufacturing, assembly, and distribution services for optical communication components. This concentration highlights Baghdad and Erbil as key hubs for optical technology in Iraq. Key Companies and Distributors Smart-Tech Iraq is a prominent player in the Iraqi optical module and fiber-optic communications sector. It operates as a value-added distributor, offering industrial-grade optical communications solutions and network infrastructure services. Smart-Tech Iraq works closely with system integrators, telecom installers, and value-added resellers, providing both products and technical expertise for private and public-sector clients. Their offerings include structured cabling, fiber-optic hardware, and complete network solutions, making them a central resource for optical module deployment in Iraq. Other companies in Iraq may be found through Iraqi B2B directories like ExportHub, which connects local manufacturers and suppliers with international buyers, providing access to contact information, product catalogs, and business profiles. Market Insights Baghdad is the leading city for optical product manufacturing, followed by Erbil. The Iraqi optical module market includes both manufacturers and distributors, with some companies focusing on network infrastructure and fiber-optic solutions rather than in-house module production. Many Iraqi companies collaborate with international suppliers to provide high-quality optical modules and related components.
