

Ireland Micro-Module Data Center Manufacturer

AI Overview

Key manufacturers of modular and micro-module data centers in Ireland include Anord Mardix, Modulacc, Cpac Modulares, Schneider Electric, Dell, and Vertiv, offering off-site, scalable, and energy-efficient solutions. Leading Manufacturers and Their Capabilities

Anord Mardix specializes in off-site constructed Power Pods, designed for seamless integration into data center facilities. Their solutions focus on energy efficiency, operational cost reduction, and rapid modular construction using advanced technologies and lean design principles . Modulacc is an Irish manufacturer with over 40 years of experience in designing, manufacturing, and installing bespoke modular buildings. They emphasize sustainability and innovation, making them a key player in modular data center construction . Cpac Modulares offers Hybrid Modular solutions, which are high-speed off-site construction systems suitable for complex data center projects, enabling rapid deployment and scalability . Schneider Electric provides the EcoStruxure™ Modular Data Centre, which includes factory-built IT pods, power modules, and all-in-one data hall modules. Their solutions are designed for fast installation, predictable performance, and adaptability to diverse environments . Dell Ireland delivers modular data centers for edge and enterprise applications, featuring integrated racks, IP65-rated enclosures, and high-efficiency cooling. Their Micro 815s units allow rapid deployment and scalability for AI-ready and high-density workloads . Vertiv offers prefabricated modular solutions that are factory-integrated, reducing onsite labor and construction time by over 40%. Their modules provide flexibility, scalability, and quality control, suitable for modern AI-driven and hyperscale data centers .
