

Italian manufacturer of low-voltage circular stiffener cable trays

AI Overview

Spina Group, through its Schiavetti Tekno unit, is a leading Italian manufacturer of low-voltage circular stiffener cable trays with UL certification and NEMA compliance. Spina Group – Schiavetti Tekno, part of the Italian Spina Group, specializes in the design and production of standard and tailor-made cable trays and accessories, including low-voltage circular stiffener types. Their products are:

- Certified: UL certification and built according to NEMA standards, ensuring compliance with international safety and quality requirements.
- Customizable: Solutions can be tailored to meet specific industrial or installation needs.
- Versatile: Suitable for various industrial applications, including power distribution, instrumentation, and control systems.

Additional Italian Cable Manufacturers

While Spina Group focuses on cable trays, other Italian companies provide complementary low-voltage cabling solutions:

- Italian Cable Company (ICC): Produces low-voltage electrical cables for industrial, civil, and special applications, including power cords and wiring harnesses designed for harsh conditions.
- La Triveneta Cavi (LTC): Offers a wide range of low- and medium-voltage cables, including special low-voltage insulation and thermoplastic compounds, suitable for industrial and power distribution applications.
- FLEI: Specializes in low-voltage power and instrumentation cables, with customization for chemical, petrochemical, and offshore applications.

Key Considerations

When selecting a manufacturer for low-voltage circular stiffener cable trays:

- Certifications: Ensure UL, NEMA, or other relevant standards are met.
- Customization: Check if the manufacturer can produce trays to specific diameters, load capacities, or environmental conditions.
- Integration: Consider compatibility with existing cabling systems and accessories. For industrial projects r...
